"Working with and helping a variety of people is appealing to me. I listen with an open mind and full attention. No matter their background, I treat each person equally and with respect. Often, I use humour and kindness to establish rapport so they feel comfortable through the testing process. With 17 years' experience working with clients, defense and plaintiff lawyers, I understand we all want the same thing - objective, fair, reasonable and defensible outcomes for everyone.

On the personal side, I am an avid hiker and am really into birding. Spending time outdoors is essential for my mental health and keeps me grounded.
